INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors We Raise Foundation Itasca, Illinois

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of We Raise Foundation, which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2022 and 2021, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of We Raise Foundation as of June 30, 2022 and 2021, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of We Raise Foundation and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about We Raise Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of We Raise Foundation's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about We Raise Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

1. NATURE OF ORGANIZATION:

We Raise Foundation (WRF) is a nonprofit organization formerly known as Wheat Ridge Ministries. In January 2018, WRF changed its name to reflect a new strategic direction. This new direction involved the creation of marketing and communication tools, including website, print materials, brand identity and online digital presence.

WRF partners with Christian organizations and emerging leaders to raise consciousness, community leadership, and capital. WRF's vision is people free from poverty, violence, and inequality and this is achieved through three priority granting areas: education, workforce development, and criminal justice. Motivated by the belief that freedom is grace in action, WRF provides grants and assistance with resource development. This unique approach to non-profit investing offers grantees comprehensive assessments, crowdfunding assistance, and research, in addition to grants. With a strategic approach to assisting grantees in these ways, WRF leverages donor funding and multiplies its impact in the pursuit of sustainability for the organizations it serves. In addition, WRF convenes and connects leaders in key topic areas to collaborate and share knowledge.

Currently, grants are made under these grant programs:

GrantsPlus: WRF's largest and most competitive grant program, partnering with Christian organizations that work at the intersection of poverty, violence, and inequality. Grants are particularly focused on education, workforce development, or criminal justice and for fiscal year (FY) 2021 and FY 2022 provide up to $100,000 over a term of up to three years. WRF serves primarily as a first investor for programs or organizations that are three years or younger, while also making targeted investments in existing programs or organizations that have proven to be highly effective in their field. Letters of inquiry are accepted twice a year.

Emerging Leader Grants: WRF provides grants as an investment in the development of leaders, between the ages of 20-35, at Christian organizations who are leading new programs at the intersection of poverty, violence, and inequality. For FY 2021 and FY 2022, grants were up to $15,000, over two years for new programs led by young adult leaders and used to help fund start-up expenses for the new program. These grants are awarded quarterly.

Crowdfunding Grants: WRF hosts and guides its GrantsPlus grantees through the creation of an incentivized crowdfunding campaign.

Select Grants: From time to time, WRF will fund a limited number of projects outside of the above competitive grant programs that promote its mission. These grants may be initiated by a donor or a member of the WRF staff.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2022 and 2021

1. NATURE OF ORGANIZATION, continued:

WRF derives the major portion of its support from the generous gifts of individuals, congregations, schools, and other organizations, and from investment earnings. WRF's endowment funds include those designated by the Board of Directors for investment (funds from the sale of the Lutheran Sanatorium in Wheat Ridge, Colorado, plus a portion of subsequent planned gifts), the Walther League Legacy Endowment (assets from the Walther League merger, plus additional gifts), and general and named endowments.

WRF is exempt from income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (Code) and comparable Illinois state law, and contributions to it are tax deductible within the limitations prescribed by the Code. WRF has been classified as a publicly supported organization that is not a private foundation under section 509(a) of the Code.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The financial statements of WRF have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from these estimates. The more significant accounting policies are summarized below.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

Cash and cash equivalents include checking and money market accounts. At June 30, 2022 and 2021, WRF's cash balances exceeded federally insured limits by $451,514 and $310,350, respectively. WRF does not believe these funds to be at substantial risk of loss due to the lack of federal insurance coverage. WRF has not experienced any loss on these accounts.

INVESTMENTS

Short-term and long-term investments are reported at fair value. Fair values for investment securities are based on quoted market prices, where available. If quoted market prices are not available, fair values are based on quoted market prices of comparable instruments. Unrealized gains and losses are included in net investment gains (losses). Financial instruments that potentially subject WRF to credit risk consist principally of interest bearing bonds, notes and common stocks. WRF maintains a diversified portfolio of investments and, prior to September 2019, had placed its portfolio with two investment managers. One manager managed fixed income securities and equity securities using a value style. The other manager managed equity securities using a growth style. Starting in 2019, We Raise Foundation changed to a new investment manager and thus liquidated all positions held by the previous investment managers. The new investment manager has discretion to select investment funds in accordance with the WRF Investment Policy Statement.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2022 and 2021

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued:

CONTRIBUTIONS AND PLANNED GIFTS RECEIVABLE

Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of their estimated future cash flows. The discounts on those amounts are computed using the five-year average return for a short/intermediate bond fund applied to the years in which the promises are expected to be received. Amortization of the discount is included in contribution revenues in the statements of activities. The allowance for uncollectible amounts is provided for contributions receivable estimated as uncollectible. Planned gifts are recorded as income at the time WRF has an established right to the gift and the proceeds are measurable.

FURNITURE AND EQUIPMENT

Expenditures for furniture and equipment in excess of $500 are recorded at cost. Donated assets to be used in the ministry are capitalized at their fair market value on the date of the gift. Depreciation is recorded using the straight-line method based on estimated useful lives of five years.

FUNDS HELD IN TRUST BY OTHERS

WRF has several arrangements whereby a donor has established a term or perpetual trust that is administered by a third party. WRF is a designated beneficiary and has the irrevocable right to receive the income earned on the trust assets for the term or in perpetuity. Annual distributions from the trusts are reported as investment income without donor restrictions, or, if restricted by the donor, as investment income with donor restrictions. For perpetual trusts, adjustments to the amount reported as an asset, based on an annual review using the same basis as was used to measure the asset initially, are recognized as change in value of perpetual trusts with donor restrictions. For term trusts, adjustments to the amount reported as an asset, based on an annual review using the same basis as was used to measure the asset initially, are recognized as change in value of funds held for others with donor restrictions. The amount reported on the statements of financial position represents WRF's share of the fair value of the assets in the trust as of the fiscal year end.

WRF is also the remainder beneficiary of several split-interest agreements which are held by others. The related income from these arrangements that have been restricted by the donors has been recorded as income with donor restrictions. The recorded value on the statements of financial position is the actuarial present value of WRF's future interest in the split-interest agreements.

The portion of funds held in trust by others, which are restricted in perpetuity, totaled $1,291,468 and $1,511,298 as of June 30, 2022 and 2021, respectively, and are included in net assets with donor restrictions in the statements of financial position.

GRANTS PAYABLE AND EXPENSE

Grant expense and the related grants payable are recorded when the grants are approved and grantees are notified of the award. Grants are made for the purposes described in Note 1.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2022 and 2021

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued:

NET ASSETS

Net assets and changes therein are reported as follows:

Net assets without donor restrictions are those currently available for ministry purposes under the direction of the Board of Directors (Board) and those designated by the Board to function as an endowment.

Net assets with donor restrictions are those contributed with donor stipulations for specific operating purposes or programs or those with time restrictions. They are not currently available for use in WRF's ministries until commitments regarding their use have been fulfilled. They also include funds restricted by donors in perpetuity as endowments or perpetual trusts.

SUPPORT, REVENUE AND RECEIVABLES

Contributions are recorded when cash is received or when ownership of donated assets is transferred. Contributions restricted by the donor for a specific purpose are recorded as support with donor restrictions until funds have been expended by WRF for the purposes specified. Upon satisfaction of the restriction or lapsing of time restriction, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Contributions restricted by the donor in perpetuity are recorded as support with donor restrictions class of net assets. Income distributions from these funds are reported as investment income that increases net assets with donor restrictions or net assets without donor restrictions. For the years ended June 30, 2022 and 2021, the top 3 donors contributed $504,741, or 40.38%, and 113,041, or 10.68%, of all contributions received, respectively.

PROMISES TO GIVE

WRF receives indications of intent to support the ministry that are commitments to provide monthly, quarterly or annual gifts of a specified amount. These commitments are open ended and subject to unilateral change by the donor. Because the commitments do not express a term or period, the amount of the commitment is not measurable. Considering these factors, these commitments are not considered to be unconditional promises to give and are not recognized prior to receipt of the contribution.

FUNCTIONAL ALLOCATION OF EXPENSES

The costs of providing program and supporting activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. The financial statements report certain categories of expenses that are attributable to more than one program or supporting function. Therefore, these expenses require allocation on a reasonable basis that is consistently applied. The expenses that are allocated include depreciation, which is allocated on a square footage basis, as well as salaries and benefits, travel, and certain office expenses, which are allocated on the basis of estimates of time and effort.

WRF incurred joint costs of $49,332 and $55,642 in 2022 and 2021, respectively, for informational materials that included fundraising appeals. Of those costs, 87.5% were allocated to fund-raising and 12.5% to program education.

10. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS:

WRF has adopted the Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure topic of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification. These standards establish a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value.

The valuations for the hierarchy are determined as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

WRF uses appropriate valuation techniques based on the available inputs to measure the fair value of its investments. When available, WRF measures fair value using Level 1 inputs because they generally provide the most reliable evidence of fair value. Level 3 inputs are used only when Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available.

Fair values of assets measured on a recurring basis at June 30, 2022 and 2021, are as follows:

	Total	Level 1	Level 1 Level 2

10. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS, continued:

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis and recognized in the accompanying statements of financial position:

Level 1

Common stock, mutual funds, money market funds and exchange traded funds are carried at fair value based on quoted market prices.

Level 2

Cash surrender value of life insurance: The fair value of the cash surrender value of life insurance policies is based on WRF's share of the cash surrender value of the respective life insurance policy as represented by the insurance company.

Funds held in trust by others: The fair values of terminal and perpetual trusts are based upon WRF's share of trust assets including certificates of deposit, mutual funds and other publicly traded investments and corporate bonds.

Level 3

Fair values for the beneficial interests in charitable remainder trusts are determined by calculating the present value of the future distributions expected to be received, using published life expectancy tables and a 4.88% discount rate.

11. ENDOWMENT FUNDS:

WRF's endowment consists of 15 individual funds established for a variety of purposes. Its endowment includes both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the Board to function as endowments. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

The Board of WRF has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, WRF classifies as net assets with donor restrictions (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment funds that is not classified in net assets restricted in perpetuity is classified as net assets restricted by purpose or time until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the organization in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA.

11. ENDOWMENT FUNDS, continued:

In accordance with UPMIFA, WRF considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

- 1. The duration and preservation of the fund
- 2. The purposes of the organization and the donor-restricted endowment funds
- 3. General economic conditions
- 4. The possible effect of inflation and deflation
- 5. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments
- 6. Other resources of the organization
- 7. The investment policies of the organization

11. ENDOWMENT FUNDS, continued:

Funds with deficiencies: From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that the donor or UPMIFA requires WRF to retain as a fund of perpetual duration. In the past, these deficiencies resulted from unfavorable market conditions. There were no deficiencies as of June 30, 2022 and 2021.

Return objectives and risk parameters: WRF has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets include those assets of donor-restricted funds that the organization must hold in perpetuity or for a donor-specified period as well as board-designated funds. Under this policy, as approved by the Board, the endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results that exceed the increase or decrease in the consumer price index (CPI) while assuming a moderate level of investment risk. WRF expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average rate of return of approximately 5% above CPI annually. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

Strategies employed for achieving objectives: To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, WRF relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). WRF targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investments to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

Spending policies and how the investment objectives relate to spending policy: A WRF Board approved policy allows withdrawals from the investment portfolio each year to support operations. The amount withdrawn for the years ended June 30, 2022 and 2021, was based upon 5% of the average market value for a twelve quarter rolling average as of December 31, preceding the fiscal year the withdrawal occurs. Additional withdrawals have been approved by the Board in connection with the strategic plan. The actual market value is equal to the net additions to the portfolio since inception increased or decreased by investment earnings over time. This policy is intended to limit spending to an amount that will allow the WRF investment portfolio to grow at a rate that will maintain purchasing power.

12. LIQUIDITY AND FUNDS AVAILABLE:

The following table reflects WRF's financial assets, reduced by amounts not available for general expenditure within one year. Financial assets are considered unavailable when illiquid or not convertible to cash within one year, assets held for others, assets held in trusts and state required annuity reserves, perpetual and term endowments and accumulated earnings subject to appropriation beyond one year, unfunded portions of line of credit commitments, or because the Board has set aside funds for specific projects or a long-term investment as Board designated endowments. These Board designations could be drawn upon if the Board approves that action.

WRF structures its financial assets to be available as its general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations come due. At June 30, 2022, the Board had $6,131,592 of funds designated for operating reserves that could be drawn upon to meet its general expenditures if the board approved of such action. For fiscal year 2023, the Board has authorized $721,130 of these funds to be used for general expenditures.

13. RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES:

In January 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of a novel coronavirus (COVID-19) as a "Public Health Emergency of International Concern," which continues to spread throughout the world and has adversely impacted global economic activity and contributed to significant declines and volatility in financial markets, in addition to significant job loss. COVID-19 could have a continued material adverse impact on economic and market conditions and trigger a period of global economic slowdown. The rapid development and fluidity of this situation precludes any prediction as to the ultimate material adverse impact of the COVID-19 outbreak. Nevertheless, the outbreak presents uncertainty and risk with respect to WRF and its financial results.

14. PAYCHECK PROTECTION PROGRAM LOAN:

During the years ended June 30, 2021, WRF was a recipient of a Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) loan of $185,935, granted by the Small Business Administration under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act). Under the program terms, PPP loans are forgiven and recognized as grant revenue if the loan proceeds are used to maintain compensation costs and employee headcount, and other qualifying expenses (mortgage interest, rent and utilities) incurred following receipt of the loan. WRF met the criteria and the full amount of the loan was recognized as grant revenue at June 30, 2021.

15. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS:

Subsequent events have been evaluated through October 25, 2022, which represents the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Subsequent events after that date have not been evaluated.
